

PCNE Vision 2025

The focus of the PCNE network is to support and connect researchers involved in the development, evaluation and implementation of pharmaceutical care. This is done by supporting research as such (mainly through collaboration, and exchange of ideas and experiences) and by training and mentoring of researchers.

PCNE as a network strives for international recognition through quality in pharmaceutical care research. The network is dynamic, open and flexible, based on trust between the members, and communicates actively - both within the network and with all interested parties.

PCNE is all about its activities. The network offers opportunities for researchers to develop their skills and share knowledge in different ways, adapted to the needs of the people involved. Strongholds of PCNE are its bi-annual working conferences, symposia and working groups. New activities to develop are webinars and a system of mentoring.
