

PCNE Working Conference 2020

Egmond aan Zee, The Netherlands

A Working Symposium of the Pharmaceutical Care Network Europe

Right questions,
valid answers

WELCOME

Welcome again to Egmond aan Zee in the Netherlands. All participants of the last PCNE Working Conference in 2019 were very satisfied with the venue, and thus we are back in the same venue. Those who joined us there already know that the location is close to the sea – and all others now get a second chance to be with us at this unique location to help us to further the research in pharmaceutical care and pharmacy practice in the Netherlands in 2020.

The title of the symposium is 'Right questions, valid answers'. As researchers we know that a 'smart' research question determines the quality of the research and helps to create valid answers. As healthcare providers we know that it takes the right questions to make patients tell us their real concerns. Different methods are needed to perform good research. With plenary lectures, pre-conference courses and workshops you will get the insights needed!

As there is an increasing demand for international educational sessions in the field of pharmaceutical care and practice research, some expert pre-conference courses will be given on Thursday. Additionally, a course on writing of scientific articles is planned.

After this educational day, the Symposium starts with a couple of inspiring lectures, short communications and a poster session on Friday morning.

Poster presentations and discussions will be held in a newly developed format, and there will be oral communications as well. On Friday, the four PCNE working groups will discuss research around their expertise during short (3 h) workshops. There is the opportunity to visit two different workshops as they are all repeated on Saturday morning, After the closing session, where the awards are being presented, the PCNE members will gather for their General Assembly.

We look forward to meeting you all again in Egmond, discussing and answering a number of questions on pharmaceutical care, but certainly also spending quality time together. A 'Dinner in the Dunes' close to the conference venue, as a social event, will certainly contribute to this. During this dinner, our new PCNE honorary members will officially be honoured.

Martina Teichert, Jacqueline Hugtenburg, Mitja Kos, Nejc Horvat, Isabelle Arnet, Ema Paulino, Foppe van Mil.
