

Collaboration in medical training – a Belgian framework, experience and the future

Giannoula Tsakitzidis, PT, Antwerp, Belgium

Interprofessional collaboration can improve healthcare processes and outcomes (Zwarenstein, Goldman et al. 2009)<sup>i</sup>. But what is interprofessional collaboration?

Participants of the lecture will receive an introduction of the definition of InterProfessional Collaboration In Health Care (IPCIHC). Also the methodological information of the interprofessional educational module in Antwerp will be described. This module aims to help students develop their competence of 'collaborator in health care' in order to be able to work interprofessionally and patient-centred.
